

Higher Technical Qualifications, or HTQs, are technical qualifications in England at higher education level. The approvals process is led by the Institute for Apprenticeships & Technical Education (IfATE), with employer review a central feature of this process.

Please note that from September 2024 the HNC will be changing to HTQ (Higher Technical Qualifications).

Please note that Seta will not be delivering a general HNC this year due to the introduction of HTQ and the mandatory units for each HNC strand.

Seta will be offering the new Electrical and Mechanical HTQ's. The units (mandatory) are as followed:

Mechanical

Unit 4001 - Engineering Design
Unit 4002 - Engineering Maths
Unit 4004 - Managing a Professional Engineering Project
Unit 4008 - Mechanical Principles
Unit 4011 - Fluid Mechanics
Unit 4013 - Fundamentals of Thermodynamics and Heat Engines
Unit 4014 - Production Engineering for Manufacture
Unit 4017 - Quality and Process Improvement

Electrical

Unit 4001 - Engineering Design
Unit 4002 - Engineering Maths
Unit 4004 - Managing a Professional Engineering Project
Unit 4014 - Production Engineering for Manufacture
Unit 4015 - Automation, Robotics and Programmable Logic Controllers (plcs)
Unit 4017 - Quality and Process Improvement
Unit 4019 - Electrical and Electronic Principles
Unit 4021 - Electrical Machines

Please complete and return the HNC book form on page 2 to Seta as soon as possible. Seta have limited places available on our HNC programme this year.
